360Biz to Create Brand New Website for Cliq

Orange, CALIF. (June 13, 2019) – 360Biz today announced the launch of its newest project with Cliq, a leading provider of innovative merchant processing services and prepaid card solutions. The company has retained 360Biz to provide a brand new and advanced website for their company.

“As an innovative merchant service and prepaid solutions provider, we need a website to reflect our culture and exceptional service,” says Cliq CEO Andy Phillips. “360 has taken the initiative to truly capture our vision by creating a cutting edge design backed by extensive research to fully understand and convey what Cliq is all about.”

The new project comprises more than a new website; 360Biz will also be creating customized branded videos, an integrated marketing automation process to generate leads and sales, and other solutions to help the company with its online marketing strategy. .

Cliq and 360 have worked together in the past, including partnering for 360’s sister brand 360Civic to provide affordable websites for nonprofits. This new project aims to help Cliq offer the best possible online experience to both their current and future clients.

“After building a long-term relationship with Cliq on various projects in the past, we’ve been able to understand their needs as a company and apply them to a brand new, comprehensive site to help their clients,,” says Ron Zayas, 360 Chief Strategist.

Cliq’s new website is scheduled to launch Fall 2019.
